Addie Elizabeth Beulah

NOV 3, 1917 - DEC 27, 2013

Addie Dyer Elizabeth Boston Wilson Beulah quietly stole away to glory from her home on Friday, December 27, 2013, she was 96 years old.

Addie was born November 3, 1917, and was the daughter of the late Colley Boston and the late Anne Eliza Dyer Boston.

She received her primary education at a one-room schoolhouse near Clark Road and was a 1935 graduate of Lockerman School. She was previously married to the late Robert Wilson, of this union she had one daughter, Juanita Wilson. She was later married to the late Charles Beulah, of this union she had one daughter, Cynthia Beulah.

During her incredible life span, Addie has seen many country roads, and traveled to many states. The country road named Dyer Road, near Concord, was a family namesake, where her birthplace home still remains. She loved to tell stories of how she had to walk those long dirt roads to catch the wooden bench seated-bus to school. As the only child, she worked along her father, mother and others in their own fields on the homeplace property. She was never a stranger to hard work.

She always had a secret passion for Home Economics and was accepted to Howard University, but opted, to take care of her ailing father. Later she ventured from Caroline County to pursue a job where she could use these skills. She found herself in New Jersey, Connecticut, Florida (Delray Beach was one of her favorites) and some stops in between working as a Domestic Manager for many prominent private residences. She was a very humble lady, but leaked out the opportunity that she had a chance to cook for the "Gallopington Gourmet" and "Julia Childs". In her retirement she continued to travel with her children to places such as Maine (sorry, no lobster to be found), Canada, Florida, and the Bahamas.

As a young child, Addie was a member and attended church with her parents, of the now closed, St. Paul's United Methodist Church, where you could find her regularly playing the piano as an adult. Later she became a lifetime member of Ross Chapel AME Church, where she attended until her health began to hinder her visits.

Please accept my deepest sympathy in the loss of your loved one. Death is truly an enemy to mankind, but Almighty God promises us at Revelation 21:3&4 that He is going to remove death, sickness and pain forever. Not only will He remove death, but He promises us that we have a chance to be reunited with our loved ones who have fallen asleep in death. (John 5:28&29) So please take comfort in the scriptures during your time of grief, and may the " God of all comfort" strengthen and bless your entire family at this time.
