I didn't know Webby well, although I followed him a year behind through school. The last time we met was 1967-8, at the bus station in Easton. We had greeted each other, and then I realized I had left my purse behind. He was a handsome sailor in uniform, and graciously gave me ten cents to call my Mom. By that time, I was "a lot" younger than he was, and very grateful. Your obituary makes this sound like a typical Webby story. I am sorry for your loss. Sue Corkran, Hurlock

Sending love and prayers from the Blanos Family. Miles and time kept us from seeing eachother as often as maybe we would have liked... but the memories of the years gone by are in my heart. My best summers as a kid were spent in Md. many of them learning how to pic veggies on the farm and sharing all the tradition that comes along with that Webby was and always will be a special part of those memories... Thanks Cuz! God Bless! Thoughts and Prayers go out to you Connie and to your family.Love, Maureen (Walsh), Bob, Peter and Sarah

These words of Benjamin Franklin to the daughter of his deceased brother, John, on the occasion of his death."A man is not completely born until he is dead. Why then should we grieve that a new child is born among the immortals? We are spirits. That bodies should be lent to us while they afford us pleasure, assist us in acquiring knowledge or in doing good to our fellow creatures is a kind of benevolent act of God.When they become unfiit for these purposes, and afford us pain instead of pleasure, instead of an aid become an encumbrance and answer none of these intentions for which they were given, it is equally kind and benevolent that a way is provided by which we get rid of them. Death is that way."I am proud to have known Webby and to call him my friend. My condolences to his large and wonderful family. Burgess Kegan
