Algie, thank you for being a good friend from high school up to the present, and thank you for being a source of support and comfort in recent years, especially during my times of loss. I admire you for your courage, your convictions, your principles and your persistence in being the best YOU that you could be. I am proud to have had you as a classmate and a friend, and I shall always cherish the love and support that you gave to me and to so many others. May your family be comforted in knowing that there were many who loved you and admired you. Rest in peace, my friend. I shall always cherish our friendship!

November 4th 1974, you welcomed us to "the hill" and into your heart with a subscription to the banner. The memories bring outburst of laughter and warm my heart. You pierced my ears with an ice cube and sewing needle sitting on a stool at WYG is WYS. The original neighborhood candy store, which was also my 1st place of employment. Even got unemployment weekly when school started and I could no longer work. Cucumber fields, picking, planting you made sure the kids on the hill knew how to work and earn our own. Lessons I'm sure are still with us. You were fun but firm as we learned with your many sayings, from sending us to your credit manager "Helen Waite" when we wanted candy on credit to "talking to Loddy Doddy and everybody" when we angered you. We often spoke of a Railroad Hill day to bring everyone together again, how I wish losing you wasn't the reason for us to gather. When I think of the hill I think of you dear friend, Algeana Stanley you were "the hill". Live on in paradise my friend. Esther Nichols
