Just heartbroken of loosing such a sweet, caring and loving person. It was my pleasure and honor of helping her on a daily basis. When we first met over a year ago, we just clicked and I felt it was meant to be that we met. Mrs Shirley was a ray of sunshine and I looked forward to seeing her. This was more than just a job for me, she became apart of my family. We shared each others family stories and life's ups and downs. I loved hearing about her life and memories and she would kindly give me loving advice when needed-just as a grandmother would. This meant the world to me, for I lost my grandmother 6years ago and miss her everyday. We worked together as a team to get tasks done and she would share her appreciation everyday for my help. I would tell her on her weaker days, that it wasn't a race, but a marathon and we would get there together-she would smile and agree every time. I thank the family for the opportunity to had worked with her and to had been apart of her last year. She was one special lady and will be missed. Until we meet again Mrs Shirley. I was her Visiting Angel, but she will now be mine. We all gained a guardian angel.
