If I couldn't write a book about "Uncle Bob", I could at least write a very long chapter. He was such a great friend to Dad, and to all of our family. He left us with countless good memories.

He was such a sweet person. and the first week he was in the hospital I went everyday to make sure he ate his lunch and everyday the nurses would tell me he would say my girl will be here to feed me.. that made me feel so happy to know he was looking forward to me being there.
