I miss you Peggy. Although we were cousins, we were raised like sisters. I miss our weekly phone calls. It meant so much to me as I know it did for you. We were so lonely and to just hear your voice, it meant so much. It has been a year since you left us, but I think of you every day. I miss you so much but you're in a better place now.

She wasn't my sister, but I loved her like one. I miss her so much. We were cousins and were raised together as young children but always stayed in touch and she knew I was always there for her. I'll always love you Peg and I know you're in a much better place now.
