Charles Robbin Hudson, "Rob," passed away on Monday, July 31 at the age of 76. He was born in 1947 and grew up in Roland Park near Baltimore, Maryland. He attended Gilman School and graduated in 1965. After that he attended Carroll College in Wisconsin and received a degree in teaching which he used to teach art in the Baltimore School System for a year. While growing up his summers were spent at Camp Deerwood in Holderness, New Hampshire where he enjoyed hiking the White Mountains and canoeing on the surrounding lakes and river. In 1975 he married his best friend's youngest sister and settled in Rock Hall, Maryland on twelve wooded acres on Harrington Creek. He created a business of blacksmithing, ornamental ironwork, and custom-made knives. He quickly grew in prominence in the Bladesmithing world and obtained the level of Master Smith through the American Bladesmith Society. Robbin often spent his summer on a lake in Ontario, Canada where he built a small log cabin with his then wife and friends.

In 2004, he moved to his beloved White Mountains in New Hampshire and married Sara Brouillet. He spent many years in New Hampshire before moving back to St. Michaels, Maryland where he lived with Sara; their dog, Abbaye; and their cat, Cous-Cous.

He had two children: Laurel Reid Hudson who lives in Kingsburg, California, and Parker Lee Hudson who lives in Chestertown, Maryland. Laurel has one son, Gavin Abel Hudson, and Parker and his wife Taylor have a son, Patton Michael Hudson, and are expecting their second son, Lane Davis Hudson.
